• Phylogenetic relationships—The relationships among the various groups of organisms are determined by comparing their DNA sequences. This is done by using a computer program that compares the sequences and produces a phylogenetic tree. The tree shows the evolutionary relationships between the groups, with the most closely related groups at the top and the most distantly related groups at the bottom.

1. The first part of the paper is devoted to a general discussion of the problem and the methods used in the investigation. The second part contains the results of the calculations and the third part discusses the conclusions drawn from the results.

Handwritten text, likely a list or ledger, with several lines of entries. The text is extremely faint and illegible due to the quality of the scan. It appears to be organized into columns, possibly representing dates, descriptions, and numerical values.

1. Chlorophyll a (Chl a) and Chlorophyll b (Chl b) are the primary photosynthetic pigments in green plants. They are responsible for capturing light energy and converting it into chemical energy through the process of photosynthesis. Chl a is the most abundant pigment, while Chl b is present in smaller amounts. Both pigments are found in the chloroplasts of green plants.
